

The Big Workplace Meeting

The trade union bill currently before Parliament is unfair, unnecessary and undemocratic. To hear more about how this could affect you at work, join us on:

Tuesday 9 February at 12.30pm

Room 54/8031, Highfield Campus, University of Southampton

The meeting is open to everyone, you don't need to be a union member to attend

The Big Workplace Meeting will take place across the country, with as many union branch meetings as possible taking place simultaneously at 12.30pm on Tuesday 9 February.

About the meeting

We invite you to join TUC General Secretary Frances O'Grady and a special guest for a live broadcast to your branch meeting at 12.45pm. Frances will give an update on progress of the trade union bill and there will be an opportunity to ask questions.

Ask Frances

Please post any questions relating to the trade union bill in advance or on the day using Twitter, hashtag #heartunions. We will post up a summary of the questions and responses later in the week on the website.
